

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A function controls the longitudinal clutch which determines a compensation of different rotational wheel speeds on the left or right vehicle side and, as a function of a permissible difference value, sets a constant torque at the longitudinal clutch.